President's Message - Bashir Jalloh

Greetings from the SAMRT Council. I hope everyone is enjoying this wonderful summer weather. The SAMRT Council and Staff had a productive and busy Spring working on governance, our Annual General Meeting and Conference, and finalizing practice, complaints, discipline and operational policies. I am very pleased to report that the SAMRT now has comprehensive policies in place to deal with complaints and disciplinary issues.

Executive Director's Message

On May 30, 2011 The Medical Radiation Technologists Act, 2006 was proclaimed by the provincial government.

This past May 30, 2016 marked five years since proclamation and the SAMRT has shown tremendous growth in fulfilling its mandate as a self-regulatory body.

I am extremely grateful for all the work that Council and numerous committees have done to get the organization to where it is today. Many directors, managers, supervisors and frontline staff have volunteered selfless hours to serving on Council and committees to ensure that the SAMRT is fulfilling its regulatory mandate to serve and protect the public.

Self-regulation is a privilege that is given to a profession to regulate itself and I want to commend you, the members, for stepping up and doing an excellent job.

Health Information Protection Act

There have been recent changes made to the Health Information Protection Act (HIPA). As health care professionals, members of the SAMRT are required by law to comply with HIPA. One of the four amendments to the Act includes the "snooping clause". The "snooping clause" means that it is an offence for an employee to access someone's personal health information without the need-to-know. For information on all changes to HIPA, please click here to view the fact sheet and click here to view the Q & A, both created by the Government of Saskatchewan.

Spring Conference & AGM

The SAMRT had a successful spring conference in Moose Jaw, with quality speakers, ample networking opportunities and the chance to earn continuing education credits.

Council election ballots were counted on Friday, April 8, and the SAMRT is pleased to announce that Nathan Rosenberg and Donna Schommer have been re-elected to serve a second term on Council.

It was announced that Allison Adair was elected by Council to serve as the SAMRT President for 2017 and Donna Schommer elected as Vice - President for 2017.
